Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of an order and decree of the County Court of Macon county, Illinois, made on the petition of the undersigned, Lowell Burrows, administrator of the estate of R. Tiddle, deceased, for leave to sell the real estate of the deceased for the payment of the debts of said estate, which decree was made at the July term, 1889, of said court, on the third day of August in said year, I, the undersigned administrator of said estate, shall, on at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the west outside door of the Court House in the city of Decatur, in said Macon county, sell at public sale to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, the following described premises in the said county of Macon, to wit: Sixty feet in width off the east end of lots twelve, thirteen and fourteen in block two of the South Addition to the Town (now city) of Decatur, said premises being the entire property owned and occupied as a homestead by said Tiddle at the time of his death, which said property will be sold subject to the dower interest of Elizabeth Tiddle therein, and subject to the lien for the taxes of 1888, and to the special assessment for the paving of Wood street, and will at the same time and place, and on the same terms, sell the following described premises situated in the county of Christian, in said state, to wit: Commencing, Lincoln's lot, at the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of section thirty four, in township fifteen north, range two west of the third P. M., thence south ten rods, thence east fifty three feet, thence north ten rods, thence west fifty three feet, to the place of commencement. The sale of said last premises will be free from the dower right of the said Elizabeth Tiddle therein, she having relinquished in writing. Said sales will be made subject to the approval of said Court.

Tuesday, the Third Day of September, A. D. 1889,

Dated August 5th, 1889.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Agreeably Surprised.

Mrs. David Martin was very pleasantly surprised yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m. when a party of friends called upon her to assist in celebrating her third birthday. The surprise was arranged by her children and was a complete success. Mrs. Martin was the recipient of a large number of costly presents among which was a handsome writing desk and book case combined, a gift from her son Ed L. Martin. A delicious supper was served about 6 o'clock, wishing their much respected and estimable hostess many a happy return of the day. Among those in attendance were Mesdames N. Langdale, D. Lewis, S. Henkle, D. S. Shollabarger, Wood Peddecord, D. L. McGinnis, T. Coleman, E. J. Strader, Charles Radcliff, L. L. Finch, of Boston, J. C. Hart, E. S. Johnson, E. Whinholtz, J. M. Flood, Emma Coleman, S. A. Hamilton, Emma Elliot, David Biglow and daughter, E. J. Harp, N. W. Coleman, R. Faries, Edward Ferguson, Mother Sheppard, Misses Julia Hill, Hattie Michaels and Rev. Geo. E. Scrunger and wife, and Mrs. Wm. Bowers.

An Enjoyable Picnic.

A party of young ladies and gentlemen: comprising Misses Alice Boring, Sallie Scruggs, Edith Lytle, Carrie Griswold, Eva Hammer, Jennie Chambers, Bertha Roach, and Messrs. Bob Hays, Hans Westermann, Thad Schroeder, Silas Snyder, Sherry Eshman, Robert Lytle, Allan Bevins and Will Pluck drove out in carriages to Stevens Ford yesterday afternoon and spent the time in playing croquet and other games. They started at 5:30 p. m. and returned to the city about 8 o'clock. They spread then supper under the trees. Upon returning to the city they drove to the home of Miss Carrie Griswold and then enjoyed themselves with dancing, parlor games and other social amusements. The guests speak very highly of the royal manner in which they were entertained by the young hostess.

MR. JUSTICE STEPHEN, the celebrated criminal Judge of England, and the author of several standard works on criminal law, says in one of his published works, treating of prisoners as witnesses, that "the class of accused persons who will get least advantage from having their mouths opened are those who are entirely innocent of and unconnected with the crime with which they are charged—persons who have nothing to conceal and nothing to explain." This is contrary to the generally accepted view in this country. Here it is supposed that an innocent person has nothing to lose by testifying in his own behalf and that only the guilty can suffer by such a method.

NEW uses for electricity are being discovered almost every day. From Paris comes the news that a process of engraving on glass and crystal by the aid of a powerful battery has been perfected. The work is described as exceptionally fine, and the cost is quite nominal after the first outlay on plant. The invention bids fair to revolutionize the glass engraving trade.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time, she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle. It helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued using and is now strong, healthy, rosy, weighing 140 pounds. Infallible in throat and lung diseases. Positively guaranteed at W. H. Cole Druggist, Fort Smith, Texas. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery Free at Dr. A. J. Stone's Drug Store. dm

REPRESENTATIVE W. L. SCOTT, Democratic Chief Chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee in the Presidential campaign of 1888, and one of the authors of the Mills bill, owns 10,000 acres of Illinois coal lands, and his coal miners are on a strike. The strike seems to be of Republican laborers against a Democratic coal baron.

AS Pension Commissioner Tanner is out West and can not help himself the Democratic newspapers had better hurry up their work of removing him.

Relations of the Senses.

Dr. Urbantschitsch, of Vienna, has for some time past been engaged in a series of experiments on the mutual action of the sense organs, and the results he has obtained are most curious. The senses of sight and hearing were shown by these experiments to be to some extent dependent on each other. Colored plates were placed at a distance where the colors could scarcely be distinguished, but on the production of various sounds the colors were more readily recognized, the colors becoming the more distinct the higher the pitch of the sound. Printed matter could also be read in a dimly lighted room much better if the ears were simultaneously employed in receiving sounds than in complete silence. In like manner the activity of the eyes aid in the recognition of sounds. The ticking of a watch was found to be more easily heard in the light with the eyes open than in the dark with the eyes closed.

Various colors of light were found to vary in their effects upon the auditory organs, red and green strengthening and blue and green weakening them. In the case of taste and smell corresponding effects were observed. Light in general, and particularly red and green, heightens their sensitiveness while blue and yellow, and still more darkness, reduce it. If a person is exposed to red or green light he can taste, not merely with the anterior edges of the tongue, but with its whole surface. There is a curious reciprocal action between the sense of touch and the hearing sense, which though they have not distinct organs are certainly not identical. If the skin is tickled with chair and the hands are then plunged into hot water the sensation ceases. If, on the other hand, any part of the body is tickled, and the hands or feet are thrust into cold water the chilly feeling is intensified. Boston Herald.

Yellow Shoes.

Dr. Weyl also described the case of a young man in Munich who had been poisoned by the yellow dyeing matter used in coloring russet shoes. After wearing these shoes for one week the young man's feet were covered with small yellow blisters which in the middle of the second week began to spread to his ankles. His doctor had him give up the shoes and cured the eruptions in ten days. The yellow leather was subsequently examined at the Munich Hygienic institute and was found to be saturated with a dangerous yellow dye. Dr. Weyl's advice to his colleagues was: "Don't wear russet shoes." Chicago Tribune.

Usefulness of Sandhill Cranes.

Several Orlando families have pet sandhill cranes which they find alert night watchers. No tramp or thief can approach their premises without hearing such a bugle note of alarm. Mr. Foster has a flock of cranes. Hushed one pen to which the wild ones paid frequent visits and several were enticed under wire netting and their wings clipped. A farmer finds that a pair of these birds are as good as two hand-rakes, pick the worms off his tobacco. They carefully take row after row, and it is a lively warm that escapes the keen eyes and the sharp bill of the cranes.—Jacksonville (Fla.) Cor. New York Tribune.

Reports from Europe on matters from the international grain market now in session, estimate the European wheat crop considerably lower than was expected. A reason quoted for feeling in America and here is really a matter decidedly better to the farmer of the home of the year to sell the crop well in advance.

Great Mississippi transport at public auction. The law in this they are put up for sale for the term of six months, and in a recent sale of Monday two were sold at two dollars each and were worth more but by those by their purchase. Another brought twenty and the farmer to whom he was to deliver it evidently meant to make forfeit rather than part with his purchase to have it go to put him to work. After this was without put up, but no bids for it. It will be secured and has work in hand to go. It is likely that the new part of Lyons will have much of it in shape the tramp nuisance.

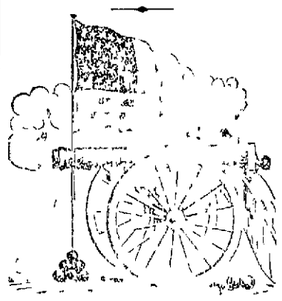
DECATUR'S FIRST ELECTRIC RAILWAY

The Citizens' Co. With Ample Power Put the Cars in Motion.



Shouts of Delight Last Night and To-Day All Along the Line

Herald City Is King, the Daylight Trip

Decatur had a regular Fourth of July time on the streets last night from 11 until 2 this morning everybody in the streets and those who were awakened by joyful shouts of the populace turning out to join in the demonstration in honor of the Citizens Electric Railway Co who had put their electric power plant into successful operation and had started one of the bright new cars over the line shortly after 11 o'clock A great throng had gathered about the power station on East North street to watch the machinery in motion and to feast their eyes on the steady inside coal light, which in the stable across the street where the new cars were on the track a puzzled peering crowd gathered to get a look at the palace cars which that were to be propelled by invisible power The excitement was at its height when it was realized without announcement that one of the cars would be sent to Lincoln Square

The REPUBLICAN reporter was there of course, and saw the first car fired up and move from its place in the house. It was no wonder the interest was great after all that has been said of the new power and after the month of work and waiting, but we are a patient people and the delays only served to whet and intensify the interest

ALL ABOARD!

Shortly after 11 o'clock the car was run out on the main track and quietly loaded with workmen. It filled up quickly and when the word was given Miss Corinne Shellabarger daughter of the president of the company, with a gentle pull at the crank on the front platform turned on the current and the brightly illuminated car with its load of curious humanity moved imperceptibly and smoothly on the initial trip. Friend and near there were placed the bright electric head lights, and the clang of the cable going and the whirl of the wheel announced that electricity in Decatur was king and that the mules have to go. Hitherto a coal stalwart mule has led the way, the singing throng back out of the way and in a moment the thing of life was away in the darkness, throwing electric sparks from the trolley wire and the wheels. The car turned north on Water street going to the end returning to the Condit street extension, one mile far as the Illinois Central railroad. Next the car went down Water street to Lincoln Square going out to Oakland Park and back to the station, thence over to the Union depot and out Eldorado street to the East Park Boulevards. The electricians in charge of the car were Punch and Draper, while General Manager Vaughan, who seemed to have gone back to his younger days was also on the front platform to enjoy the first trip and see that no accident occurred. Others on board were President D S Shellabarger Will L Shellabarger, John I Kinney Miss Corinne and Grace Shellabarger, Lulu Shellabarger Jo J Stratton L K Durfee Ald L P Graham Will Bolt, A J Gephart and members of the press

The first trip was entirely satisfactory to the owners of the plant who have expended $50,000 in the venture. The car moved smoothly and with less noise than is made by the mule teams. There is no jerking in making a start upon reversing the pressure is simply turned on steadily with a crank movement and the cars go, the speed depending directly the amount of electricity turned into the motor which rest upon the trucks of the wheels. New overhead switches are being made for the company and as soon as they are finished they will be so adjusted where the west of the other company cross on Lincoln Square and at Eldorado street that there will be no stop of the cars nor readjustment of the trolleys

All along the route last night people came out of their homes in a half dress of condition to see the first electric car and many a window went up to disclose the good people taking a look at the swiftly moving fiery palace

THE DAYLIGHT TRIP

Band Music Fireworks and Cigars

At ten o'clock to day by invitation of the Citizens company the city officials and township officers the members of the press and a few others took their first ride on the elegant new cars propelled by the power of electricity. Three cars were brought up to Lincoln Square, one of which was occupied by the Light Guard Band and the other two by the invited guests. An immense crowd of people had assembled and when the cars started out West Main street the streets all the way out bore lines of people, all eager to see the trial trip. After passing safely over the line as far as Oakland Park the cars started back and went out North Water street to the terminus, and then out Condit street to the northeastern limit. Coming back to Water street the expedition took the line to the depot, and then out East Eldorado street to the terminus at the corner of East Park Boulevards and then back towards the city, stopping at the power station to look at the mammoth generators which had furnished the motive power that had propelled the party over six miles of track, without once giving out or diminishing the rate of speed.

Along the entire route the new cars were the object of very great attention upon the part of the people who were delighted to see the cars spinning along without the help of the mule or the jerky trencho. The Condit street line had never been used before, nor had the line on East Eldorado street east of the Central been the travelers were delighted with the smooth going and splendid appearance of the line. The trip over the route has made without serious accident of any kind, only such slight delays as are unavoidable in any new enterprise. The scheme of running cars by electricity was voted a success by everybody, and those who had any doubts as to the practicability of the matter were completely converted. There could be no such thing as disbelief among those who were of the excursion party. Decatur is willing and eager to throw up her hat in testimony of the success of the enterprise.

The music of the Light Guard Band added much to the interest of the occasion. Their music, which it was all could be desired, accompanied the cars as they moved along. The band always astonishes Decatur when it turns out to a serenade, but beyond the dim wonder of a marvelous bell. He [illegible] trolley on one of the cars on North Water street caught [illegible] but too low was speedily remedied. [illegible] got [illegible] on particular [illegible] of cigars while waiting for the [illegible] to be repaired and the holy [illegible] body in good humor.
